APPRAISER COMMENTS:

This is a midcentury modern double dresser made by the Heywood Wakefield Company. It is in original, "Champagne" finish. The piece is quite striking in its design with horizontally "stepped" drawer fronts, use of curved surfaces, and overall superb design.

Based on comparative data for other sideboards recently sold, and considering the similarities and differences for the condition, size, artistic merit, and age, we have valued the subject piece as indicated.

DISCLAIMER

This online appraisal report is an appraisal expert's opinion of value based on market comparable research of the item description and images supplied by our customer. No further guarantee of authenticity, genuineness, attribution or authorship is represented.

Current Fair Market Value is the price agreed on between a willing buyer and seller, neither being required to act, and both having reasonable knowledge of the facts.

Replacement Value is the price in terms of money that would be required to replace the property in question with another of similar age, quality, origin, appearance, provenance and condition, within a reasonable length of time in an appropriate market.
